

In the ruku, women should bend down just enough to place their hands on their knees. Keep the arms close to the body & the fingers of the hands should be together.

In the sajdah, women should sit directly on the floor & not on their feet. Both the feet should come out on the right hand side. Then bend forward without lifting the back, so that the stomach touches the thigh. Keep all the body parts close together.

